Certificate of Appreciation

For Winter Storm Response in West County, District 5 To First Responders and SoCo Public Infrastructure

The first three months of 2023 brought an unprecedented series of storms through Sonoma County for a prolonged period. Atmospheric rainfall events one on top of the other, hurricane force winds, and saturated soils resulted in hillside slides, entire culverts destroyed, road slip outs, and dangerous downed trees with power lines wrapped around them.

Through these storm conditions our first responders crews – fire, sheriff, PG&E crews, and SoCo Public Infrastructure (SoCo Pi, formerly known as TPW) - were out making sure our communities were safe. Through the rain and wind and dark of night, these heroic crews were out

- · Removing power lines and making them safe
- Installing an entire bailey bridge over Salmon Creek during the storms within days to provide access to an entire community
- · Removing downed trees, re-opening roads,
- · Closing flooded roads then rescuing motorists who went through and got stuck anyway
- · Put up detours and shored up roads that have slip outs

While the first responders have been able to move forward, SoCo Pi is still inundated with major roads, culvert, and bridge repairs. Director Johannes Hoevertsz has been working around the clock with his team and Supervisor Hopkins to create innovative approaches with FEMA and related agencies to ensure permitting and funding for critical repairs. New problems continue to pop up as road slip outs and downed trees continue to occur due to saturated soils, leading just this week to the support failure at the Main Street bridge in Monte Rio and a new slip out on Fort Ross Road. Disaster fatigue is real for crews and community as storm repairs continue to appear.

Within the first three months of the year, SoCo Pi has received over 2,000 road repair issues. To put this in context, this is more than they usually receive in a year. While the condition of our roads has long been a concern in West County and there is much to be done, this is the time to take a moment and acknowledge the hard work, grit, and dedication of these disaster crews. As repairs and work with agencies grind on throughout this year we, the Representatives of the Lower Russian River Municipal Advisory Council, wish to acknowledge the toll this series of winter storms take on these crews and express our appreciation.

Signed:

ip Marquez de la Plata, Chair

Lisa Nahmanson, Vice Chair
